It is a bija mantra that expresses the essence of monism. It is revered as the universal sound through which the cosmos creates itself, and it is also used to invoke universal love. Abhigyan Shaktivada Tantra gives the ekatmata mantra as "", which is an aspect of the verse "". It proclaims the inherent divinity in all things, asserting that everything is permeated with Brahman. The verse further asserts that all religions are the same because they are situated on the same ground of divinity. Similarly, all beings are spiritually equal since they are emanations from the selfsame Brahman. The Isopanishad declares that there is one supreme primal being who pervades everything in this universe through his unique power of maya. The world is 'One Being' manifested as numerous souls (jivas) and matter (pudgals). The individual being is a mere reflection of Brahman. The bija mantra for this stotra is : "ॐ अक्त मा रे ॐ" When these words are repeated over and over again, the mind is brought to a state of complete stillness and silence. This ultimately leads to self-realization and ultimately, experience of the Supreme Self.
